Lucknam Park receives prestigious award reflecting its new found status amongst the culinary greats

Lucknam Park, the magnificent country house hotel located just 6 miles from Bath, was awarded 'BEST OUT OF TOWN' restaurant at the prestigious Tatler Restaurant Awards at the Four Seasons Park Lane on Monday

The award arrives almost exactly one year to the day after the arrival of renowned chef Hywel Jones. Hywel's fabulous culinary flair has transformed an already promising kitchen and has achieved formidable results.

Hywel's near celebrity status is clearly warranted. A sample menu offers mouth watering delicacies such as confit of Cornish red mullet with pressed Italian aubergines or poached black leg chicken with truffle gnocchi and artichokes. Delicious dishes that the Tatler judges found 'sounded just the right note, elevated but not overbearing'. The terrine of extra-bitter chocolate with lavender ice-cream was considered a 'revelation!'

Restaurant status aside it seems that it was not just the food and service that caught the experts eye; the exquisite beauty of the house and the ambience within the hotel did not fail to captivate the senses and add to the overall experience of Lucknam Park.
